

Past Purpose Clues

An early memory when I felt proud or useful (even small).

A time I felt deeply connected to others (helping, leading, organizing, creating).

A hobby or interest I dropped that still feels important.

A compliment or feedback I received that felt true (what they said I'm good at).

One small way I can re-introduce that clue into my life now (even 10 minutes a week).
